Our Lord's New Year Exhortation

Take a few minutes to enjoy Rev Haak's 2002 New Year's message that is still applicable today!

The world in this year is not going to declare a truce in its efforts to conform you to its mold.

The Lord greets you at the beginning of this year, 2002. He comes into your house through this message today and He says, "My child, in this coming year I have a warning for you. You must beware, you must take heed to yourself."

Exactly what is the specific focus of ourselves that we must watch carefully? Is it our dress or appearance or health? No. The Lord says it is our hearts. "Lest at any time your heart be overcharged." The heart is our spiritual center. It is our spiritual center-point.

The Bible says in Matthew 15, "Out of the heart proceed evil thoughts and murders and adulteries and fornication."

And the book of Proverbs tell us "Keep thy heart with all diligence, for out of it are the issues of life. As a man thinketh in his heart, so is he." Beware of your spiritual center, of your heart, lest it be overcharged.

That word "overcharged" could be translated "weighed down," or "burdened," that the heart comes under a heavy weight. The Lord uses the same word in Matthew 26:43, where we read that Jesus "found them asleep again (the three disciples who were to watch with Him): for their eyes were heavy (literally, overcharged, weighed down, under a big burden, they couldn't keep their eyes open)." An overcharged heart is a weighed down heart, it is a heart that is unresponsive to God, it is out of touch with the reality of the Lord's second coming.

The heart of the child of God is looking for Jesus' coming. If you cut that heart open, in that heart you will find the prayer, "Come, Lord Jesus, come quickly."

How do we keep our hearts from being overcharged and continually pray "Come, Lord Jesus, come quickly?" Hear the answer in the rest of Rev. Haak's message at <https://reformedwitnesshour.org/broadcast/our-lords-new-year-exhortation/>.
