Books at RBO: We continue to stock books in The Reformed Book Outlet that have been reviewed in our periodicals: The Standard Bearer, The Beacon Lights, and The Protestant Reformed Theological Journal.

Some newer books are:

When the Darkness Will Not Lift: Doing What We Can While We Wait for God--And Joy
By John Piper

Grasping God's Word: A Hands-On Approach to Reading, Interpreting, and Applying the Bible (Workbook) by J. Scott Duvall

War and Grace: Short Biographies from the World Wars by Don Stephens

Abraham Kuyper: Modern Calvinist, Christian Democrat by James D. Bratt

An A-To-Z Guide to Biblical Prophecy and the End Times by Zondervan Publ.

Thomas Becket: Warrior, Priest, Rebel by John Guy

Holding Hands; Holding Hearts by Richard and Sharon Phillips

And the newest book in the Classics of Reformed Spirituality series by The Dutch Reformed Translation Society:

The Practice of True Faith, Hope, and Love by Godefridus Udemans

And we will soon have a new book: Living and Dying in Joy: A Devotional Guide to the Heidelberg Catechism by Cornelis Vonk reviewed by Chuck Terpstra on his blog: The Three R's Blog at <http://cjts3rs.wordpress.com/>

Mr. Terpstra's blog quotes from the forward of the book: "This is a revised and abbreviated edition of the extensive explanation that Vonk himself wrote with his own hand. This smaller volume shows with special clarity that what the church confesses in the Heidelberg has been drawn thoroughly from Scripture and is according to Scripture. It will certainly be able to serve as a brief introduction to Christian doctrine, for example, for those desiring to become members of the church. People can use this little volume in other ways, however. Because it contains many cited Scripture references, a family with growing children can read through this book for mealtime devotions in the span of seven weeks...."
